

General terms and conditions of participation in the Telemach Sarajevo Youth Film Festival

Terms and conditions of the Festival competition

(I)

The festival screens domestic and foreign short (minimum 2 minutes and maximum 25 minutes of duration in OFF Shorts and maximum 30 minutes in OFF Generation Shorts) and feature-length (minimum 60 minutes of duration in CineBloom section) films made between the two festivals, as well as films that are no more than one year old and which were not submitted for competition at the Youth Film Festival or submitted to the festival selector in the previous year. selection period. Films selected through a public competition, by special invitation of the Festival or by invitation to participate may be shown at the festival.

(II)

The festival selector, by reviewing all submitted or invited films, forms competitive and non-competitive selections. The selections that make up the festival program are approved by the Festival Board. Only films that have been submitted in the format and in the manner and within the time limit stipulated by the Rules of the Youth Film Festival and the conditions of the application competition for participation in the festival defined as part of the film application application can be shown at the festival. The festival reserves the right to keep the records of awarded films. (screener) which can be used exclusively for documentation and festival promotion purposes.

(IIa)

Films in non-competition units are selected exclusively by the selector or the sector of the Festival's program and that through the protocol on cooperation with other Festivals. The Festival selector or the Festival program sector exclusively invite films in non-competitive selections to participate in the Festival, which means that there is no possibility of applying or registering a film as an integral part of this segment of the film program.

(III)

All submitted films in the competition program, that are, their producers - producers, both domestic and foreign, are not entitled to compensation for showing films.

(IV)

By applying to the competition, all applicants give the Festival the opportunity to document their data, regardless of whether their film will be selected for the official selection or not.

(C)

The Festival reserves the right to promote and broadcast films from the official selections during the Festival and as part of accompanying festival events throughout the year within territory of Bosnia and Herzegovina if difference is not agreed.

The festival reserves the right to subsequently change the selection, competition regulations and change the broadcast and screening dates of the selected films.

(VI)

The description by categories and selections are described in detail, which can be found on the Festival's official page in section Festival Profile.

As stated, the Festival reserves the right to reject a specific film or application and consider it invalid if it does not meet the general requirements or is considered unfavourable for the Festival.

Terms and conditions of use of the Festival website and protection of user data are available at www.omladinski.ba